Coastal Community Bank Welcomes Scott Becker as VP, Relationship Manager at its Evergreen Way Branch

EVERETT, Wash. – Scott Becker joined Coastal Community Bank as Vice President, Relationship Manager at the Bank’s Evergreen Way location, serving South Everett, Kirkland and Bellevue. Becker brings expertise in small business lending and business development, working most recently at Opus Bank in Kirkland.

“As our reputation for helping small business and community-minded organizations continues to grow, we are seeing more demand for our expertise in North and East King County,” said Eric Sprink, President and CEO. “A lot of our growth is driven by an existing customer base with expansion plans of their own as well as new customers looking for a dedicated partner to handle their banking needs.”

“I am excited to represent Coastal in the communities where I call home,” said Becker. “The Company has a great reputation and their expertise in SBA and business lending is impressive for a bank of their size. I like the idea of providing the very best in business banking services in a personal way where I can still maintain the relationship and personally ensure that my customers are treated right.”

Throughout his career Becker has been active in his local community. Currently, he serves as President of the Kirkland Chamber of Commerce and President Elect of the Rotary Club of Kirkland. To contact Scott, call (425) 349-2606 or email sbecker@coastalbank.com.
