Coastal Community Bank Hires Community Banker David Cope to Oversee its Downtown Everett Banking Center

EVERETT, Wash. – Coastal Community Bank is pleased to welcome David Cope to the Downtown Everett location where he will serve as Vice President and Branch Manager, bringing a history of customer service and business banking experience to the Bank’s original location.

“Because Downtown Everett is our first branch and many of our staff have worked here at least once during the past 20 years, it holds a special place in the hearts of Coastal Bankers and our Community,” said Dan Juhl, SVP and Regional Manager. “David has a history of working in the area and he is excited about coming back to Everett, a place that is significant to his professional career.”

“I’ve had the benefit of working with some great people in business and community banking in the north Puget Sound,” said David Cope, Downtown Everett Branch Manager. “I was particularly attracted to Coastal because of their reputation for helping small business owners and the communities that support them. I will bring my experience in branch banking and customer service to ensure our customers continue to get the personalized attention and solid advice they have come to expect.”

Most recently, Cope served as Customer Service Manager at SaviBank in Skagit County where he managed the operations of a large branch and focused on growth and customer retention. He previously served as Branch Manager for Union Bank, formerly Frontier Bank in Everett, Wash. Cope is a graduate of Leadership Skagit and Leadership Snohomish County, and has served on the board and supported numerous events for the Mount Vernon Chamber of Commerce for the past 7 years.
