Coastal Community Banker and Non-profit Advocate Toraya Miller Moves from Internal Auditor Role to VP, Branch Manager

EVERETT, Wash. – Coastal Community Bank announced that Toraya Miller has accepted the position of VP, Branch Manager at its Downtown Everett location after serving as the bank's VP/Internal Auditor for nearly 7 years.

Miller, a long time banker and passionate non-profit volunteer and consultant, has been helping non-profits and small business owners come together to serve the needs of their community for over a decade. She has over 15 years of experience working in audit and compliance within the financial industry, which led her to develop internal controls and financial best practices for struggling organizations.

"My transition to branch banking couldn't be more perfectly timed," said Miller. "In recent years, the role of branch manager has become more consultative and my passion for helping non-profits and small business owners will serve me well. My new role at Coastal lets me combine all the aspects of my job and volunteerism into one community serving endeavor."

A strong advocate for the empowerment and education of women, families and children, Miller currently serves as past Chair to the United Way of Snohomish County and was most recently appointed by Governor Jay Inslee to the Everett Community College Board of Trustees.
